

Julian Clary back on the London stage

Released on: November 12, 2012, 8:39 am

Author: LondonTown.com

Industry: Travel

LondonTown.com offers hotel deals in the vicinity of the comedian's comeback

November 12, 2012, 8:39 am -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- For a right royal night out that doesn't involve the monarchy, James Bond, or anything (at all) straight-laced, then have a wander to the Shepherd's Bush Empire on November 23rd, where Julian Clary will be pouring forth his usual mixture of hilarity and anecdote in his latest show.

Entitled Julian Clary: Position Vacant, Apply Within, the show finds the comedian and presenter of Channel 4's gameshow Sticky Moments in search of a husband. We can be assured that whatever follows will be a heady mixture of the lewd, witty and sublime as one of the UK 's favourite comic queens does what he does best – gets up close and personal with an audience.

Tickets are at £20 for the Friday night show, taking place at the Shepherd's Bush Empire, one of West London's foremost performance venues, which has long been a place to spot new and established talent.

For those making the trip especially, there are also plenty of ideas to be had from LondonTown.com, London experts, whose range of hotel deals and offers are second to none.

Check out London hotels in Shepherd's Bush or in easy access of the Central Line with the LondonTown.com website. The Simply Rooms & Suites Hotel at Kensington Olympia has some lovely doubles on 23 rd November for a 36% discount of £111.

Alternatively you'll find another great deal on a double at the Kensington West Hotel London, around 20 minutes' walk from the venue, for £76 per night.

-ENDS-

~~~~~

Press release distributed via EPR Network (<http://express-press-release.net/submit-press-release.php>)