Rev. Pam also hand makes handfasting cords Handfasting Cord .net and custom poured wedding unity candles. Both made personally by Rev Pam for the wedding couple. The 7 foot handfasting cord take 4hours to create and has four prayers marked with beads along the handfasting cords braid for the couples health happiness and protection. The handfasting tradition started well before the church married people and is the origin of the expression "they are going to tie the knott" A beautiful ritual to include with a ring exchange and can easily be adapted to incorporate children from first marriages. After the ceremony the cord become a protection tool for the couple.

Rev Pamela is happy to custom write a ceremony and vows for your officiant to preform.

The unity candle is created much the same as the handfasting cords with prayers written on rice paper and sunk into the wax of the unity candle as it is being poured. The colors are selected by the couple and a stone bead is placed at the bottom to create a talisman of good luck after the candle is completely burned.
