

FertileMind.com continues to provide special items for expectant parents

Released on = May 11, 2007, 12:47 am

Press Release Author = Fertile Mind Pty Ltd

Industry = Apparel & Fashion

Press Release Summary = A unique gift for an expectant dad that will give them a laugh and teach them, a maternity dress for special occasions and a clever wrap for baby to keep them feeling safe and comfortable.

Press Release Body = A great gift for the expectant dad is the Being Dad DVD - 60 interviews with dads supporting partners through their first pregnancy as well as interviews with health professionals and a financial planner. Aussies have a great sense of humor about facing a new challenge, so you will be very well entertained as well as educated. See real people and situations that you can relate to.

Got a wedding or special event to attend? The extremely popular 6WayDress or 6WayTop is clever buying. Worn more than six different ways, the tops and dresses are just as lovely on non-pregnant figures. We have black and chocolate in both the dress and top, and the dress now also comes in the stunning resort-style Fresh consisting of a white boob tube, charcoal skirt and pretty teal, white and grey print for the ties. You can see the different styles on a model at www.fertilemind.com.

Step 1 With one hand, hold your baby's hands together under the baby's chin (babies like to have their hands near their mouth for comfort). With your other hand, bring the short side of the wrap over and tuck firmly under baby's shoulder (it will be easier if you swap hands midway through).

Step 2 Bring the bottom of the wrap over the baby's tummy (this is optional).

Step 3 Hold baby's hands again and bring the long side over and wrap around baby's back (once again it will be easier if you swap hands midway through).

Are you or someone you know wrapping a young baby? Then you'll appreciate the clever design of the Lalito contoured Baby Wrap. Shaped to ensure no wriggling free, the Lalito contoured baby wrap is made from durable cotton with natural stretch trimmed with satin in a range of colors to suit your nursery style. The practice of wrapping your baby is very popular in Australia with Midwives teaching the technique in all anti-natal classes. Babies are used to the confines of the tummy and often wake themselves up because their arms can move about while they are sleeping.
