Press Release Body: CWorks Systems Puts Asia Pacific Expansion Plan on Fast-Forward

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (September 20, 2007) – Due to increased demand of facilities management software and support in the Asia Pacific market, CWorks Systems Berhad today announced the openings of two new offices in Beijing, China and Jakarta, Indonesia. These new offices were opened to support these countries' rapidly growing and expanding economies. This expansion reflects CWorks' commitment to offering low cost computerized maintenance management systems (CMMS) internationally. CWorks is partnering with facility maintenance management experts across the globe who understands first-hand the challenges faced in today's increasingly complex maintenance environments.

Stated Abdul Rani, CEO, CWorks, "As our world becomes flatter and more and more countries are experiencing an unprecedented economic boom, simultaneously, new construction of facilities for all industries is increasing. Our goal is to support this new growth and demand for facilities maintenance software by maintaining home offices in those countries such as China and Indonesia."

Both offices are staffed with several experienced facilities managers.

"We fully believe in the adage that 'the designer of a new kind of system must participate fully in the implementation.' Therefore, we are stepping up our international effort to ensure that low cost facilities maintenance software and CMMS are available and supported, both home and abroad," added Rani.

About

CWorks

CWorks, a company specializing in CMMS, is managed in Malaysia and the United States by a group of maintenance and information technology practitioners who between them have more than 60 years combined experience in maintenance and IT from both local and multinational organizations in many countries. In addition to their experience in maintenance and IT, the CWorks team's expertise includes a huge base of implementation experience, as they have implemented CMMS at a variety of sites internationally that include LANs, WANs, and call centers environments.

The combined know-how of the CWorks team enables CWorks Systems to produce a CMMS product that is truly fit for purpose as it is produced by practitioners for practitioners. CWorks is the sensible approach to maintenance management not only for its affordability but because it is designed and implemented by experienced practitioners who understand the costs associated with asset maintenance, operational effectiveness, and the need for continuous improvement.

CWorks' main activities are the design, development, production and support of CWorks Computerized Maintenance Management System (CMMS). Following successful sales in North America, CWorks in 2005 formed a joint venture company, CWorks Systems, Inc., in the USA to ensure optimal customer service and sales support for its North American clients. CWorks Systems Berhad, formed in August, 2001, is a Multimedia Super corridor (MSC) status company and is listed on the Malaysian Bourse MESDAQ board (CWorks:0079).
