Press Release Body: New insurance comparison web site www.GetQuotes.co.uk allows users to compare car insurance quotes from up to 50 insurance companies in minutes. Along with car insurance users can also obtain lots of quotes for home insurance, van insurance and bike insurance all delivered in minutes as a result of completing one simple form! Other areas of the site list providers for many other types of insurance such as pet insurance, public liability, business, landlord or even wedding insurance as well as loans, mortgages, bank accounts, credit cards, gas and electric providers and many other finance resources.

GetQuotes insurance search engine compares some of the top insurance companies and brokers to obtain what is they hope the most competitive quote tailored to the users provided individual circumstances. Users results are provided in real-time, often in around two minutes!

Designed with the user in mind the new get quotes website is incredibly easy to navigate and use. "The whole site is aimed at being the most user friendly we could make it, in today's high paced internet world people are short of time and the site we have developed will deliver an insurance quote at a competitive price in a very short time span, in most cases a user of GetQuotes.co.uk can obtain multiple quotes in just a few minutes." commented developer, Matthew Edwards.

"We have a long term plan to locate or provide search facilities for other types of insurance and finance but these areas will come later down the line. At the moment we must concentrate on providing lots of cheap insurance quotes in as little time as possible for our key sectors - car insurance, home insurance, van and motorbike insurance. Our other main goal is to get people visiting and using the site so they can see for themselves just how useful Get Quotes can be! There are a number of price comparison sites out there and we want GetQuotes.co.uk to be able to walk tall alongside the other quote comparison websites. Our site does exactly what it says on the tin (to coin a well known phrase) users can Get Quotes for Home Insurance, Car, Van and Motorbikes! Our moto of the moment is: Don't end up paying more than you should. At Get Quotes you can get fast, and cheap insurance quotes from up to 50 leading insurance providers in just two minutes! Why hang around? Start saving money at Get Quotes now!"

With slick design, fast loading pages, easy to use navigation and excellent results for a wide range of insurance products from multiple insurance providers, GetQuotes.co.uk is a site that can only go from strength to strength.
