Press Release Body: YouStrip.com is a leading Men's Entertainment Portal, situated at the 'crossroads' of three multi-billion dollar markets - glamour, internet & mobile. YouStrip.com is leading a new wave of User Generated Content, estimated to be worth over $2bn in the next few years.

In the 6 months since launch YouStrip.com has inspired women from all over the world to enter their personalised striptease into the first global competition of its kind. YouStrip.com is now the fastest growing entertainment website in its category.

The website has been completely developed in Adobe® Flash®, to facilitate easy scaling, fast loading, and immediate compliance / readiness for all mobile devices that incorporate Adobe® Flash® Lite™.

Its architecture can fully exploit the advanced features of Google Chrome browser. Viewing the site on Google Chrome provides blazing speeds for searching content and viewing video streams. There is no exterior coding involved. YouStrip.com will continue to work with new features of Google Chrome to give our users the best possible experience of the YouStrip.com site on this new platform.

As YouStrip.com continues to grow it will be announcing deals with mobile operators who need content specifically designed to be easily rendered and viewed and the next generation of mobile devices.

Ends.
