Press Release Summary: GOgoodhealth.com.au provides access for the general public to health care professionals able to provide telephone consultations at an appointed time.

Press Release Body: A revolutionary new health care service called GOgoodhealth.com.au has been released for access by the general public to enable them to make appointments for telephone consultations with health care professionals such as psychologists, therapists and counsellors.

GOgoodhealth have an alliance with the health care group GOprofessionals which is also managed by internet pioneers and web developers WebStation Australia.

Gogoodhealth.com.au provides the viewer with the ability to make an online appointment for a telephone consultation, at a time which suits them, with fully qualified therapists, psychologists, counsellors and other health care professionals.

People requiring privacy or living remotely or lacking mobility or with transport problems or are just 'time poor' are enjoying the convenience along with the cost and time savings of telephone consultations.

GObookings AppointmentDiary, Australia's leading appointment management software, was chosen to handle the online appointment booking process. Once the appointment is booked the health care professional is then notified by email and/or SMS whilst the person making the appointment receives an instant confirmation email along with email and SMS reminders.

The AppointmentDiary version 8 software was chosen for this role as it is reliable, secured, easy to use, well proven and already highly regarded within the health care industry.
