Industry: Healthcare

Press Release Summary: According to a study conducted by the United States government, 19.1 million Americans use illicit substances every month.

Press Release Body: Every day hundreds of thousands of people experience drugs for the first time as well as become more and more addicted to drugs. Drugs are chemicals that have a huge physical and psychological impact on the brain which directly affects how you feel and act. People who are suffering emotionally use drugs, not necessarily for the rush, but they want to escape from their problems. They are trying to medicate themselves out of loneliness, low self-esteem, unhappy relationships, or stress. This is a pattern that too often leads to drug abuse and addiction. But how do you know when drug rehab is needed? One of the only ways to beat a drug addiction is to admit that there is a problem. Only drug addicts who know their addictions for what they actually are, can get the help that they need. The bigger question is out of all the places out there to go seek help, how do you know which one to go to that will help the recovery process.

Cliffside Malibu is a drug rehab center that surpasses anything that you may have seen before. They are a full service residential drug rehab center in the Los Angeles area, that has a team of highly trained experts that are ready to take action with their new and effective drug rehab program. They have highly qualified professionals and support each individual for any kind of addiction. This center also helps addicts to share their recovery with people that are fighting the same addictions. It helps to relate to the people that are surrounding you, and support each other through each individuals own experiences.

Recovering from drug addiction is a very difficult experience for an individual to go through. There is a lot of self discovery and evaluation that one must go through to even begin the healing process. Cliffside Malibu has a breathtaking view of the Pacific Ocean. It is the privacy as well as state of the art, luxurious sanctuary that attracts the elite to this facility. They have highly qualified individuals that are available 24 hours a day to help in this recovery process. The main goal of this facility is to make it as comfortable as possible for you knowing that the process of recovering is not an easy one. Since drug addiction deals with both physical and psychological roots, it is important to confront the addiction as it actually is. Once this is established, the actual drug rehab program will deal with both states as well as the addiction itself.

Cliffside Malibu did not become one of the top leaders in addiction treatment overnight. There are people that come in with multiple addictions, and Cliffside does not treat these people any different. Each individual undergoes through an evaluation process by one of the staff members, and based on their evaluation will begin their healing process in whatever way they see fit. They find that when patients have a sense of security they are able to give the recovery process their all. When you step foot into Cliffside Malibu, you know in an instant that you are in a safe place. You know that you are safe from the negative influences that keep nagging you, and safe from the drugs that you are trying to escape from to begin with. Each patient is treated as an individual, not as a criminal. The main goal of the staff is to make sure that you are comfortable, safe, and truly ready for the long road to recovery. They are there to help you, not hurt you, and although there may be things that they say that you don't like, it is important to understand that they are there for you.
