Press Release Body: This holiday season, thousands of children are looking forward to receiving a Nintendo Wii game. But there's a problem lurking in Santa's sack; some kids won't be very happy with their parent's choice of Wii entertainment.

Because a number of parents have no clue what their game players actually look for in a Wii video game.

But a solution for both parents and children is at hand; helping buyers decide, before the Wii game purchase decision has been made. A new game review site, www.WiiGameReviews.pbwiki.com, dedicated to Nintendo Wii game reviews made by actual players, has been launched to help avoid disappointment with game content.

As a 'Wiki', the site is all Wii user-generated content. According to Google, a Wiki is; "a collection of web pages designed to enable anyone who accesses it to contribute or modify content, using a simple interface." Anyone is welcome to add their own Wii game review to the site. By adding a video, audio or text comment to any of the sections.

What's more, the site has dedicated sections to; Wii action games, Wii Sports and racing games, Wii role-playing games, Wii brain games, Wii games for girls and more.

Information is also available on how to fix a broken Nintendo Wii, Wii competitions and giveaways. Plus, how to get the best deals on Wii consoles, games and accessories.
