Press Release Body: As Banks Back Away From Credit Market, Note Brokers Step In

DandGFundingCo.com buys mortgages and other notes, giving individuals and businesses a cash lump sum just when it's needed.

Courthampton, VA -- As banks have backed away from the credit market, private finance experts are stepping in. They often come to the rescue of cash-strapped businesses and individuals, buying mortgages and other notes with cash lump sums.

"Our business is often referred to as the Cash Flow Industry, because we can bring much needed infusions of cash to businesses who suddenly find their credit sources are drying up," said Sophia Rowe of <http://www.DandGFundingCo.com>.

In recent months businesses of all sizes have faced closing as their traditional sources of operating cash have dried up. Banks and other financial institutions are no longer willing to extend the short-term loans needed for expansion, research and development, and weathering off-seasons.

Likewise, many individuals have seen their savings depleted by the rapid downturn of the markets. Thousands are looking to Note Brokers to bring them the cash they need for retirement.

"The brokering of notes is also playing a crucial role in today's slumping housing market. Sellers often have to self-finance the mortgage for their buyer. We step in and buy the mortgage from the seller for a nice cash lump sum," Rowe said.

Rowe's company purchases a wide variety of notes including mortgage notes, owner-financed mortgages, commercial notes, structured settlements, lottery payments, annuities, and court settlements.

"Instead of getting their money over a long period of time in small payments, we buy the note and give them one big cash payment. Instead of waiting years to get all your money, you get it right now," Rowe said.

DandGFundingCo.com clients use their new cash flow to finance a business, pay for a college education, or to finance retirement. "These days when so many people's income and investment sources are under attack, the cash flow industry is making it possible for our clients to continue a profitable and comfortable standard of living," Rowe said.
