May, 2009 -- The new website HotelInAustralia.net allows travelers to compare Australian hotel prices quickly and easily. The premier online destination for travel comparison shopping, the site compares prices from over 3,000 Australia hotels listed by accommodation providers, online travel agents, and reservation websites.

Designed to help visitors find the lowest rates for cheap, budget, discount, and luxury Australia hotels, the website does all the work of searching for the best deals as they are posted on the Internet, in real time.

HotelInAustralia.net has simplified the process of finding the cheapest hotel deals on the web, so that the average consumer doesn't have to spend time comparing prices independently. Booking is done directly through the hotel booking agent associated with the deal selected.

In addition, the site allows individuals to check prices for hotel deals discovered on other websites. Input terms using the search tool to compare room prices and find out if any of the Australia hotels listed on the site are priced at a more reasonable rate. It's easy to find the best deals for Australia hotels with more than 30 hotel reservation websites available to search. It's also possible to narrow the search by location, star rating, and price.

HotelInAustralia.net makes sure travelers obtain up-to-date price and availability information, harnessing search technology that queries reservation and booking websites each time a search is inputted. When a good deal pops up, visitors are given a direct link to the hotel reservation site for convenient booking.

Note that HotelInAustralia.net does not operate as a travel agent, and does not sell travel deals or book reservations directly. All reservations are made on the booking website.
