The Berkshire Comfort Inn & Suites is pleased to announce the completion of its new Executive wing just in time for the busy summer season in the Berkshires of western Massachusetts. Flocks of tourists make the Berkshires, and primarily Tanglewood Music Festival, their summer destination. Tanglewood, the summer home of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and the Boston Pops attract over 300,000 guests a year for performances by the renowned Boston Symphony Orchestra led by Maestro James Levine, now in his fifth summer as music director of the BSO.

"America's Orchestra" The Boston Pops will be presenting performances several times throughout the summer at Tanglewood and will be led by Keith Lockhart and Pops Laureate Conductor John Williams, and joined by such talents as Chris Botti (8/7) and James Taylor (8/30). John Williams leads the Boston Pops and special guests in the annual Film Night at Tanglewood. This season, the event celebrates the legacy of Hollywood's Warner Bros. dynasty with thematic montages, film excerpts, and music of Mr. Williams himself (7/18). James Taylor will also be at Tanglewood three additional nights offering "James Taylor: Conversations Among Friends" when he'll be joined for an informal evening with members of his band (8/27), two concerts with Taylor, his band and guests Sheryl Crow and Yo-Yo Ma (8/28-29).

Other special appearances throughout the summer at Tanglewood include the Mark Morris Dance Group (8/5-6), Garrison Keillor's 12th annual broadcast of Prairie Home Companion (6/27), Tony Bennett (7/21), Diana Krall on the 4th of July complete with fireworks at the end of the evening, and many more wonderful classical, jazz and modern music performers. Tanglewood is just one of the great reasons that the Berkshires is the summer place to be.
