For the benefit of Car owners AutoQuoteNow.com is launching the market defining online service where the car owners will get all the quotes related to the insurance of auto cars. All the quotes are compiled and delivered to the screen in a matter of few seconds.

Brooklyn, NY – 22 February 2010 - To simplify the highly competitive and complex market of Auto Car Insurance, AutoQuoteNow.com has introduced an online auto insurance quote provider service. When one buys a car, a considerable sum of money is invested in it. It needs to be insured from any sort of accident and AutoQuoteNow.com provides all of these services like coverage, deductible and other related insurance variables. All the quotes provided by the AutoQuoteNow.com are authentic and compiled from the various insurance partners and not from a single insurance provider. This gives consumer the option to compare insurance quotes so that one can choose the best one as per the needs.

In response to a query AutoQuoteNow.com official commented, "Our team makes it sure that the customer gets the best deal in a relatively small amount of time. It saves a lot of time as the customer does not have to go from one agent to another agent asking about the quotes. We provide it at the same place and just at the click of a mouse." The response also added that to get a quote one has to submit some basic information like name, address, information related to the car and the driving history of the car owner to get the online insurance quotes.

AutoQuoteNow.com official also stressed on the fact that the need for AutoQuoteNow.com arose due to the lack of any credible source to provide the best insurance deals to the customers while saving their money, time and effort at the same time. Team at the AutoQuoteNow.com works in tandem with the wide array of insurance providers and makes sure that the results are up to date. The results can also be delivered as per the area of residence. While providing best deals to the customers, AutoQuoteNow.com promises to keep improving and will come up with new features in the times to come.
