Need to find a wedding band - but don't know where to start?

Enter Freak Music providing the best wedding bands Scotland can offer. The new and unique band and DJ booking website has undergone a revolutionary re-launch, enabling visitors to look, listen and book their preferred band online.

Set up 10 years ago, Freak Music has been connecting DJ's function and wedding bands and to some of Scotland's largest events and high-end bars and nightclubs. Now, the highly successful event and music management company has enhanced its online presence and booking operation even further.

Jay Feeney, co-founder of Freak Music, says: "Our brand new website has undergone a ground-breaking re-launch so that people can book bands and DJ's more quickly and easily in these harder times. The site will have particular appeal to Scotland's major venues as well as private functions and weddings."

www.freakmusic.co.uk provides only the very best live bands, event entertainment, singers and musicians for hire, finding the right artists for the right event.

Visitors to the unique site are able to browse and listen to music genres, enter their preferred price, date and venue, with the enquiry sent straight to the band to speed up the booking process.

Scotland's major venues and organisations, including the Edinburgh Festival Fringe, RBS and Universal have benefited from Freak Music's professionalism in presenting niche bands from in and outside the UK.

For the past decade www.freakmusic.co.uk has provided a unique booking portal for DJs and labels. Its expertise lies in venue programming and event management, catering for venues across Scotland's premier establishments. The agent takes great pride in covering all spectrums and music budgets.

Freak Music operates one of the lowest commission fee structures and, in most cases; the bands offset this fee from their quote, making it no more expensive than booking direct. If site visitors are able to find a better price through another agency, Freak Music aims to match or beat it.

"The technology behind the website is absolutely original so that visitors can look, listen and book from an exciting collection of bands," Feeney explains. "We consider the new site to be the best in terms of simplicity and usability for booking bands in Scotland with great potential to roll the system out UK-wide."

Freak Music also offers impartial advice to site visitors if they are unsure what they're looking for, or have any doubts or queries about a band that interests them. And, where quality control is concerned, the bands listed on www.freakmusic.co.uk are considered to be among the most professional.

"We have received a great deal of repeat bookings from the former site which we expect to increase dramatically following the re-launch," he sums up. "Already, site visitors have increased by 75% in a year before the site was redesigned. Now we expect the site to break boundaries we once thought impossible."
