Even in the quest for luxurious surroundings and a life-changing holiday experience, there's room for a bargain and Deal Hunter, offered through Expedia.com.au, helps Australian travelers to choose from the finest London hotels and other posh getaways at seriously discounted prices. Leveraging its database of over 100,000 hotels worldwide, Expedia.com.au picks the best offers, including exotic locales like Bangkok hotels, offering discounts as high as 50% off regular posted room rates.

May, 2010 -- The web site discriminating Australian travelers have come to know and love continues to lead the way for those seeking a memorable vacation with a minimum of fuss in the highest quality surroundings. Through its Deal Hunter feature, Expedia.com.au offers thousands of luxurious hotel rooms in dozens of exotic locations at rates that are discounted by as much as 50% off the regular prices. For example, Bangkok hotels such as the Landmark Bangkok (rated 4.5 out of 5 stars by guests) are available through Deal Hunter at rates starting as low as $119. Discounts of 50% off rooms or suites in a hotel located in the heart of Bangkok's entertainment district with an outdoor pool and sundeck, spa, health club and even traditional Thai cooking classes (held twice daily in the Nipa restaurant) are unheard of, but Expedia.co.au has built a reputation for making the luxurious and exotic affordable.

In a recent feature on Rome, Money magazine called the Italian capital "a feast of a city." Rome hotels can be expensive and with so many options available, it's easy to pick the wrong one. Whether you're looking for a modern, luxury experience or more unique villa-style accommodations, Deal Hunter on Expedia.com.au can ensure that your Rome adventure exceeds your expectations, while saving you money you can put towards authentic meals or perhaps an excursion to Pompeii or Florence (check the Activities feature to look for these and other excursion ideas). With hundreds of Rome area hotels available through Deal Hunter, you can even book a room in an ultra luxury location like the Aleph A Boscolo Luxury Hotel for as little as $470 per night. If that sounds expensive, remember that Rome hotels are among the finest in the world and this special rate through Expedia.com.au is at 45% off what the hotel normally charges.

Expedia.com.au offers more than just discounted hotel rates. Other services include holiday packages, car rentals, travel insurance and flights that can be combined for further savings. Features such as Activities and Destinations make it easy to fully plan an adventure vacation, complete with listings of local activities and events that can be booked online. Of course there are hotel listings as well (with over 100,000 hotels in the database), and visitors can search by a wide range of criteria, including city, price and rating, making it much easier to choose which of the 882 London hotels on file is the right one.

Operated by Expedia, Inc (the world's largest online travel company), Expedia.com.au offers Australian travelers access to 110,000 hotels (including 272 Bangkok hotels) and 180 airlines worldwide. Through its wide range of online features, including Activities, Destinations and Deal Hunter, Expedia.com.au gives Australians the ability to book exotic holidays at significantly discounted rates and even assemble packages including flights, car rentals, accommodations and tours for additional savings. Ratings by guests make it easy to avoid unpleasant surprises and Expedia.com.au makes it easy filter, so instead of sorting through 1552 Rome hotels, the list can be reduced to show only 5 Star rated facilities.
