October 25, 2012, 11:56 am -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Acquirelists engineering mailing lists reach key influencers and purchasing decision-makers. These engineers are multi-disciplined design engineering professionals working with electrical/electronics, fluid power, mechanical drives, microwave, motion control, assembly, materials, and engineering software, and their job requires a constant investment in product development cycles. Our entire engineering database gives you the depth of selections and overall reaches to put your offer in the hands of the top engineers and engineering managers.

"Acquirelists Engineering executives mailing lists provide relevant information for marketers looking for an advantage over their competitors " says Andrew F Robinson, CEO of Acquirelists. "We are constantly updating our data in every quarter to ensure the updated executive contact details are available to our valued client base.” Email, telephone and mailing address information for these businesses and executives create the ideal marketing contacts to begin a successful online marketing campaign or appending to existing B2B database.
