Holland's Rhythm and Blues Orchestra will play two consecutive nights.

November 21, 2012, 2:46 pm -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Pianist and presenter Jools Holland is bringing his Rhythm and Blues Orchestra to the Royal Albert Hall for two shows, on November 30 and December 1. To coincide with the show, booking and information website LondonTown.com has revealed details of a number of discounted London hotels close to the venue.

Jools launched his career as keyboardist for Squeeze, but left the band at the height of its fame in 1980 to pursue solo ventures. He went on to present 'The Tube' and 'Later...', making it his personal mission to introduce the most exciting upcoming musicians to a wider world.

But his real passion is performing populist big band music with his ever-changing R & B Orchestra line-up, which this year features Scottish singer-songwriter KT Tunstall and respected trombonist Rico Rodriguez. Concert-goers can expect a night of guest appearances and high spirits. Tickets range from £17.50-£48.

Ticket holders looking for affordable London hotels are advised to look at website LondonTown.com, which is offering discounts on a selection of twin and double rooms close to the Royal Albert Hall. The offers are only available when booking now through LondonTown.com

One of the participating London hotels is the Fifty Four Boutique Hotel on Queen's Gate, less than a ten minute walk from the Royal

Albert Hall. The Fifty Four is currently offering a discount of 93% on double rooms, which brings the cost of a night's stay down to just £66.

Up the road is the Grange Strathmore Hotel London, now offering double rooms from £145 per night – a 48% discount on the usual rate.

Both featured London hotels are available at the reduced rates when booking exclusively through LondonTown.com. Visit the site to find more London hotels, and for further information on the Jools Holland's winter shows at the Royal Albert Hall.
