November 30, 2012, 8:21 am -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- The Happy Bike, an online bicycle storage centre has expanded its garage storage offering into products from Idaho based company, Monkey Bars.

"We are delighted by being able to offer Monkey Bars' racks to our customers. Monkey Bars offers the most versatile racks on the market today. Their products are based on innovative designs making their racks very easy to install but also very effective to use. It is a real joy to have their products in our catalog." - said Pawel Grabowski, the owner of The Happy Bike. "With this addition to our catalog we are now offering most of the top garage storage brands. It is our goal to give our customers the biggest selection when it comes to ways to organize bicycles in their garage, home, apartment or even a small office and we are constantly sourcing more products to include in our catalog."

The company, which already offers products from top brands on the market such as Gear Up, Racor and Tidy Garage is also in talks with other producers and soon might become the largest indoors bicycle storage centre online.

About the company: The Happy Bike is an eCommerce store offering indoors bicycle storage solutions for home, garage, apartment and even a small office.
