December 17, 2012, 4:01 pm -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Leading online and high street perfume retailer The Fragrance Shop has announced it is now stocking the first oriental fragrance for men from Giorgio Armani – Armani Black Code.

Described as pure, understated and timelessly sensual, Armani Code is not only a new fragrance for men, it offers an entirely new perspective on the Giorgio Armani man.

The scent has been designed to support the wearer's charisma and to highlight his sophistication and natural positivity. The top citrusy notes of this designer fragrance for men include the fresh and light hint of lemon, along with delicate bergamot. The essence of olive flower with its aniseed notes are here too, along with sophisticated and understated base notes derived from South American heart wood, tonka beans and fine leather.

"There really is no better gift than scent at Christmas and choosing to wrap up a bottle of Giorgio Armani for a loved one will really show them how much you care. Armani Black Code is undoubtedly one of the best stocking fillers out there."

Giorgio Armani Black Code is available to buy from The Fragrance Shop in either a 50ml or 75ml eau de toilette spray, or alternatively as part of the Armani Code gift set, which represents fantastic value for money and would make an ideal gift for someone special this Christmas.
