December 10, 2012, 11:29 am -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Ace Sheds have now developed a fully comprehensive portfolio of summer houses ranging from the small to the large and from the simple design to the ornate but one of their proudest achievements is the Tonbridge Chalet Wooden Summer House. This particular summer house has a great pedigree but it really is one of the most versatile of all of Ace Sheds range of summer houses. The design is simple but the overall finish is such that it creates a strong almost Austrian type of building, which will fit well in any garden.

Ace Sheds have tried to create the typical chalet design with a smart shallow style roof, with a central apex, which extends over a delightful little veranda, the roof whilst looking good also allows there to be good headroom throughout the building. Ace Sheds have designed the building so there is a good oblong central room with the front being in the long side of the building. The floor area of the overall building can be anything from 9 ft x 8 ft up to 12 ft x 10 ft to allow the finished size to be a personal choice of the customer, the size of the garden and the number of people potentially using the summer house will ultimately determine the size of the building. One thing to note is that Ace Sheds have been very careful in pricing these units and that the purchase of the largest sized unit is an exceptionally good deal and well worth exploring if the summer house will fit the site.

The great feature of the Tonbridge Chalet Wooden Summer House is the delightful Georgian windows which extend over the full width of the front of the summer house from waist to head height with two windows fitted either side of a pair of double doors with Georgian windows in the top half of each door. There is also a large Georgian window fitted in one side of the building with Ace Sheds offering the option of fitting another Georgian window in the other side wall. Unlike your standard garden sheds, this mass of windows gives a good deal of light to the building and also enhances the view for the people using the summer house but it is the Georgian design, which gives the building its character. The double doors allow the building to be opened up fully to the weather on a great summer's day but which is still capable of retaining the integrity of the building on those damp days when the summer house is being used as an escape from house.

Ace Sheds have developed the Tonbridge Chalet range to give a hint of that lovely Alpine building which stands in the middle of the valleys of mountains because it fits in perfectly with the British garden but is still a great functional building which will give an excellent place to spend the day or evening in a good summer. It is also built so that when fitted with suitable electrical services it can provide a good place to go throughout the year. Ace Sheds have turned a standard design into a most attractive summer house, which can be bought and fitted for a price that will not break the bank.
