March 28, 2013, 10:27 am -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Force 8, the Stockport-based composite door and UPVC windows supplier, are doing their bit for UK communities as they look to further spread the word about their products.

It may shock customers to find out that an alarming 67% of burglaries are attempted through a door, this fact should certainly reinforce the fact that home owners need to look at the security measures they are taking in their homes.

We all know about the value of burglar alarms and locks, but have you taken a minute to see if your door could withstand some force? Force 8's range of composite doors is built using the most robust materials on the market.

If customers are looking for reassurances that they are buying the best quality doors then they need to ensure that the door that they are choosing has a PAS24 certificate, this shows that the door has been rigorously tested with everything from Battering Rams to Stanley knives.

Dennis Sumner, Managing Director of Force 8, wanted to reinforce how important having a solid door is;

?As a business we always pride ourselves on the quality of our products and whilst we encourage home owners to do all they can to save on certain areas in the home, you simply can't afford to choose a sub-standard door.

Our composite doors can be purchased in a variety of designs so whatever design you are looking for, there is a very good chance that we will be able to match it.

As well as the security benefits, customers can also benefit from the style aspects of a composite door. They come in all different shapes and sizes so no matter what you are looking you are sure to be able to find it at Force 8.

Customers can also make the most of the brilliant door design option on the website where customers can design their own door to match their specifications. There are 18 different designs and 8 colours to choose from so whatever style you have given your home, there will be a door to match.
