June 05, 2013, 6:54 am -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Leading UK supplier of displays stands for schools now offers high quality exam desks, which can be easily transported to any location in the school and safely stored, after exam time.

Panel Warehouse recently launched an affordable new range of high quality school furniture, and now the company is urging schools to stock up on great folding exam desks in time for the exam period at the end of the school year.

Folding school exam desks from Panel Warehouse are tough, durable and easy to store. They have been designed specifically for school exams. This means that they're the ideal size for students to comfortably sit their exams, but it also means that they're easy to fold away or transport to other rooms, as and when they're needed.

Multi buy offers are available on all school exam desks and exam desk trolleys, and free delivery is available on orders of more than £75 plus VAT.

The exam desks range at Panel Warehouse includes the Titan School Exam Desk in blue or charcoal grey. These super strong Titan brand desks feature a large 600 x 600mm working area, and an extra strong steel frame to guarantee a long and useful lifespan. Titan school exam desks weigh around 50% less than a traditional wood top desk, and fold neatly away when not in use. A helpful snap lock mechanism ensures fast and simple assembly come exam time.

In addition to these premium folding exam desks, Panel Warehouse also offers the Titan Exam Desk Trolley, which holds up to 40 folding exam desks at a time and makes moving these desks from one location to another as simple as possible. This safe and handy trolley has a grey powder coated steel frame. This coating prevents marks and scratches when uploading or offloading exam desks.

A range of other school exam desks and exam desk trolley are also available, at less cost. Schools simply need to choose the right exam desk range for their needs, then purchase their desk using the simple online ordering system at the Panel Warehouse site.

Panel Warehouse guarantee quality, and fast delivery, and they encourage school to place their of exam desks now to receive their order long before the deadline for exams.
