September 17, 2013, 2:30 pm -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Finding a job and finding the right one are two different things. For finding a job that well suits you and allows you to grow and prosper in life, proper representation of your skills and personality is very crucial. This is because the present age is the age of information and it all boils down to how effectively you present your information and this can be a crucial deciding factor in the process of job searches today.

At Roozgaar.com, we are of the opinion that the first and most important part of any recruitment exercise today is a well written resume even though many believe that an interview is the most crucial point in finding a job. While there is no denial of the fact that an interview is crucial, today the scenario is much different than what it used to be ten years back. This is because the number of interviews today is very limited and the number of well qualified candidates is much more than that. Therefore instead of interviewing every candidate, the recruiters wish to get a good first impression about the candidate for short listing the capable candidates for interview. Thus, a well made resume is very crucial today for anyone seeking job.

This is where Roozgaar.com steps in for you. At Roozgaar, we believe that a resume should not just be a boring enlistment of your qualifications and duties, but it should reflect effectively
