November 18, 2013, 2:03 pm -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Divine Souls, developed by Game Prix (<http://www.gameprix.net/>), will be receiving a major update with the all-new 'Battlefield' on November 19, 2013 through gameNgame website.

Battlefield is the best MOBA game that allows up to sixteen players in an eight-versus-eight format. Upon reaching level 40 and above, users can enter the battlefield and conquer the opponents' towers using team strategies and tactics.

Various promotions, including online PVP event and offline event in Vietnam, are planned to take place to commemorate the update of Battlefield. In addition, with the launch of the new server on November 12, 2013, the company has been receiving valuable feedback from users in North America.

In response to user growth of Divine Souls in North America, Game Prix has added the new server in order to provide seamless service to users.

Seung Wan Hong, CEO of Game Prix, stated that "there has been tremendous user growth since the initial launch of Divine Souls. As a result, the North American server has been added and Asian game server is planned to be launched in the future.

Furthermore, the Battlefield update was primarily due to the increased number of high-level players. Ongoing contents and updates will be introduced to deliver new user experience and accommodate high-level players.”
