The Irish comedian brings his midlife tour to the Hammersmith Apollo

December 07, 2013, 7:51 am -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- By his own confession, floppy-haired Irish comedian Ed Byrne has been a 'miserable old git' ever since he was in his twenties; now that he's turned 40, he feels he's finally come of age.

Byrne's current UK tour – a discourse on midlife and his unexpected embracing of it – rocks up in the capital at the Hammersmith Apollo on Friday 13 December. Anyone looking for somewhere to stay overnight can browse an extensive selection of London Hotels on LondonTown.com, where they can also take advantage of the best deals and effortlessly book rooms.

As well as building up a huge, and very loyal, following for his live shows, Byrne is also a regular on TV shows such as Mock the Week, Never Mind the Buzzcocks and Have I Got News For You.

Doors open at the Hammersmith Apollo at 7pm and tickets cost £25.75. The tour continues round the UK in 2014 with more London dates in Bromley (16 & 18 February), Richmond (20 February), Croydon (26 February) and Catford (28 February).
