Horsham, UK, December 17, 2013, 1:53 pm -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Splash and Relax have taken great care to get ready for the winter leisure season and have a great range of options ready for sale for the snow season which is just showing signs of starting in the south of the country and has already started in the far north of the UK. The USA has already had some large snowfalls this year and so often the weather then tracks for the east coast of the USA and heads for the UK so it is time to be prepared.

Splash and Relax have a myriad of sledges for the season and have increased their stocks this year both in quantity and variety. However Splash and Relax have also a number of items which are on the edge of extreme sledging and the snowboard certainly comes into that range. Splash and Relax have increased the number and range of the Snowboards that they supply and there are some excellent models available at very reasonable costs.

One of the best of the models stocked by Splash and Relax is the Snow Board Red Bear which is a mean looking board some 130 cm long made of an excellent foam construction at a price that is very good. The board has a challenging red design on the surface, which will appeal to the adventurous child and has an excellent performance on the small or the larger hills. The two foot fixings are easy to manage and tighten up ready for a good run. The total weight of the Snow Board is small at 2.5 kg and this allows the user an easy carry back to the lift system or on the trek back home after a day's boarding. This is the logical next step as the sledging bug gets more commonplace and the adventurous youth seeks different but exciting ways of travelling on the snow.

Splash and Relax have a very strong safety attitude and for this reason they recommend that the user uses a good safety hard snow helmet and also a good pair of gloves. That will allow the rider to be prepared for the odd tumble and come away with the odd bruise but generally in a good condition. The gloves also serve as a welcome protection from the cold snowy days as well as protection in a fall.

Splash and Relax have a range of Snow Boards, which will help the different styles of the riders. Besides the Snow Board Red Bear, Splash and Relax also stock a great "Boogie" Board with a limited 95 cm length which limits the speed a little but allows superb control and is a great snow board when the track gets a few turns which can provoke a challenge to the average boarder. This board like its longer partner the Red Bear Snow Board gives a very comfortable ride.

Splash and Relax note that whatever the option that is required they will do their very best to supply a good quality board to fit the adventurous attitude of its young rider.
