January 18, 2014 -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- "I'm not sure this is what my parents had in mind," Noelani Rodriguez chuckles.

She shares her hearty laugh about her career choice, the same one she shares with her many psychic phone clients around the world.

"I loved going to an Ivy League School, but I also love being a phone Psychic Reader."

Noelani shares her love for metaphysical work with other Ivy League graduates, such as Dr. Joan Borysenko who is a Harvard trained Medical Scientist known for her spiritual mentor training, and Dr. Brian Weiss who is a Harvard trained Psychiatrist known for speaking on Oprah show about Past Life Regressions.

Although Noelani showed a penchant for academic study at an early age, and went to Harvard at age 16, she comes from a long line of spiritual teachers. Her father had a Sunday night religious show popular on the Hispanic TV channel in New York. Her grandmother ran the Hispanic section of the Gospel Tabernacle in the Fifties. Her mom translates for a Billy Graham style minister that fills soccer stadiums in Latin America.

Noelani's specialty is being a "Psychic Pen Pal" and Phone Psychic Reader for metaphysical people around the world. She gives readings by phone and email.

With a truthful style that is also filled with divine encouragement, Noelani has done over 1000 readings with great reviews on Yelp, Thumbtack, Facebook, Bookfresh and many websites online.

One woman credits her in a review for predicting her meeting her fiance. Noelani told her it would be in June of the following year. "It turned out to be May 31, Memorial Weekend." said Noelani's client. "I've predicted many relationships," says Noelani.

Noelani has done missing person's cases, mediumship readings, love and career readings and much more. She is unique in that she can also write accurate email readings as if she has the person right in front of her. She types a comprehensive email for people facing moves, career change, relationship decisions and more.

"I always tell the truth," says Noelani. "One woman got upset when I told her her new temp job would not be permanent. I told her the job would lay off half the people in the next year. The woman was incredulous because she was a recruiter. A month later she wrote me and told me the job had laid off half the people. She did get a better one right away," comments Noelani. "There's always good news in my readings. There's a place where Spirit is calling us and life is going to be better there--that's good news."

Noelani felt her psychic awakening start 7 years ago. "Since I started reading I have had mostly spiritual folks, healers and intuitive readers like myself. I think this is because it is great to find spiritual dialogue and community for our spiritual growth path, somewhere in society."

"There's a Psychologist and Author Dr. Joshua Stone who talks about how Psychologists probably cover about thirty percent of the soul path with a client. We are all mind, body, soul and spirit. I guess he is saying that Spiritual Counselors are important too."

Noelani loves all faiths and religions. She believes we can all talk to the Divine directly. A Psychic Counselor is just a "second opinion" when you talk to your Intuition.

Noelani is passionate about her work, talking to like-minded spiritual others. Since I've paid off my expensive student loans a while back, I can have fun!"
