Hong Kong, February 05, 2014 -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Asian FTG announced today the launch of the next generation online Commodity Investment Resource Center developed four clients. The re-designed Commodity Resource Center offers leading-edge graphical charts that give unique insights into the commodities market at a glance, and a host of advanced tools and search functionality enabling customers of all skill levels to invest in commodities with greater ease, insight and speed.

"Most investors understand that commodity trading is a very profitable way to boost your returns. However, they are underutilized or wrong utilized because many investors don't know how to research and select commodities and investment strategies in commodities." said Paul Livingstone, Asian FTG's Head of trading and Vice President of Investing. "So we've rebuilt the Asian FTG Commodity Investing experience from the top down to make buying and selling commodities as seamless, intuitive and straightforward as buying a stock."

The new Commodity Resource Center supports a full range of fixed income investing needs — for novice investors through expert traders — with new features, such as:

Strategy Analyzer - Run historical tests and analyze the performance of your automated trading strategies.

Market Analyzer - A turbo-charged quote sheet allowing you to monitor, sort and rank hundreds of instruments in real time.

- 100 plus indicator columns
- Rules based cell color coding and alerting
- Dynamic ranking, sorting and filtering

Trade Performance - Analyze the performance of your historically back-tested trading strategies and/or your live real time trades.

Additional Analytic Tools

- Time & Sales window
- Level II market data window
- Alerts window
- News & RSS window

" Asian FTG is demonstrating tremendous vision by delivering market-leading tools to make commodity trading more accessible. The Commodity Investment Resource Center is an innovative, content-rich, easy-to-navigate solution that enables Asian FTG customers to manage their portfolios."
