Chicago, IL, March 31, 2014 -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Audrey Woulard Photography announces her latest workshops in Atlanta, Georgia, & Los Angeles, California. She will teach photographers how to nail perfectly exposed images while shooting at high noon, in full sun. Shooting at high noon is often frowned upon in the photography industry, yet Audrey Woulard will discuss how to overcome those issues at her latest in person workshop. Audrey addition to her portrait work, Audrey Woulard has shot ad campaigns for Pottery Barn Kids & a national campaign for IAMS Pet food. She will go over the commercial industry as well during her workshop.
