LONDON, April 04, 2014 -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Spring is gradually making its presence felt in United Kingdom and the weather in London is changing by the day. It's the season of shopping and events in London and is also ideal for exploring the city since the weather is most pleasant. Like every year, hotels in London are anticipating huge flow of tourists and are planning various strategies to attract more business. Since many events are lined up in the city for the next few weeks, hotels located close to the major event venues are certainly going to be the biggest revenue earners. Situated at the affluent Queens Gardens, Bayswater in London's prestigious West End, Park Grand London Paddington, one of the most reputed properties of the Park Grand Group has already ensured plenty of bookings and a major reason behind that is the Zippos Circus.

Zippos Circus

Kids have got reason to get ecstatic since the Zippos Circus is back to UK. The most popular touring circus in Britain, the Zippos Circus has already starting entertaining the tender souls from February 19 at the Brent Cross Centre and would stay camped till March 18. Its holiday season for the kids and nothing could be a better way to celebrate the freedom from studies than the Zippos Circus. This latest edition of Zippos Circus is surely going to excite the kids far more than ever, since a number of new performances have been included in the schedule of programs. This edition of the show has been entitled Unchained and it's an exciting package of thrilling stunts, comedy moments and mind-blowing acrobatic skills. Another big highlight of the Zippos Circus this season is a unique equestrian display. However, the biggest attraction of the show will be stunning performances by highly talented contortionists, world-class jugglers, daring acrobatic moves by super performers from the Tropicana Troupe and some funny clowning activities. The Restellis, Italy's most prestigious clown group has been the show stealer this time and hence there will be lots of laugh all around.

Zippos Unchained is featuring ringmaster Norman Barrett MBE, whose performances have been super hit for many years. Audience will also get to see strongman Hercules performing, who has made a comeback to professional circus to meet popular demand. Though the event would be on till March 18, people of London and visitors to the city would get the opportunity to see the super performances at the Brent Cross Centre till March 2. After that, the Zippos Circus will leave London and start touring across UK.

Hence, people planning a family trip to London this spring should make it happen right now so that their kids get the chance to enjoy super clowning and acrobatic actions. Park Grand London Paddington is conveniently located in Central London, offering very easy access to the venue. O ne can take train from Paddington to Brent Cross station from where the venue is just a few minutes away.
