Staten Island, NY, August 29, 2014 -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- For the seventh straight year, Celerant Technology has earned a spot on the annual Inc. 5000 list of fastest growing privately-held companies, compiled each year by Inc. Magazine. The honor places Celerant, a leading developer of retail management software, in exclusive company with honorees across a myriad of industries.

"As an Inc. 5000 honoree, Celerant Technology now shares a pedigree with Intuit…Microsoft…Oracle, and other notable alumni," wrote Eric Schurenberg, President and Editor in Chief of Inc. magazine. "For 33 years, Inc. has welcomed the fastest-growing private companies in America to a very exclusive club."

Since its founding in 1999, Celerant has carved out a reputation as a pioneer in retail technology with its fully integrated software suite, Command Retail. This robust platform was one of the first to manages all major aspects of the retail business in real-time, such as point-of-sale, inventory allocation, accounting, customer relationship management, E-Commerce, M-Commerce, fulfillment and more. Now approaching its 15th year in business, Celerant is preparing to deploy its latest platform, Stratus Retail, an entirely web-based enterprise system which will allow retailers to manage not only their POS with any mobile device, but also the entire retail operation including fulfillment, ERP and more.

"It's an honor to once again receive recognition as a member of the Inc. 5000 list of fastest-growing companies," said Ian Goldman, CEO of Celerant. "To make the Inc. 5000 list for a seventh straight year demonstrates the validity of our company overall and our team's commitment to developing products and services that further the goals and growth of our retail clients."
