Press Release Summary: Vision33, a Spanish tourism services company, announces availability of luxury apartments and holiday homes in Rome for rent to those on holiday in the city.

Press Release Body: Vision33, a Spanish tourism services have announced the new availability of luxury apartments and holiday homes in Rome for rent to those on holiday in the city. Vision33 is based in Barcelona, Spain and provides a wide range of accommodation in Rome including tourist apartments and hotels. Vision33 have staff that are fluent in Italian, English and Spanish to accommodate international visitors to Rome.

The Vision33 interactive Rome tourism website has detailed information about things to do in Rome including museum information, suggested walks around the city as well as practical information about travel and transportation and an interactive map.

The guide on the museums in Rome gives concise descriptions of each museum making it a little easier to choose from the massive range on offer.

The tourist apartments available on the website range from small studios to accommodation that is suitable for large groups travelling together. Visitors can perform a search on the website for an apartment depending on the number of people, where it is located, number of bedrooms, price and available dates.

Fernando Rivas, Director of Vision33 said, "We understand that many people want a more comfortable and informal stay when travelling to Rome in order to experience what the city has to offer; staying in apartments much the same as the people of the city do is an ideal way to enjoy an authentic Roman experience. We are proud to provide this service of matching up our clients with those tourists wishing for a more authentic experience. For those visitors who wish for a little more extravagance, we are happy to announce the availability of a range of luxury apartments in Rome."

A new feature of the Vision33 Rome Tourism website is the addition of luxury apartments page; here interested visitors can fill out a quick form to provide information about their specific needs, enquire about availability, and leave the search to Vision33.
