Press Release Summary: Modern Furniture and Contemporary Furniture from top European designers available at eRoomService

Press Release Body: There is a new freedom in interior decorating today. To journey, explore and challenge. To leave your mark and make a statement. To be bold and ingenious to the outside world and in the privacy of your own home. Envision such place where all the wonders and charms of trendy designs and refined luxury are an everyday delight. A place where every part of your body is relaxed, while your taste buds are blissfully enveloped with style. Sit...indulge in optimum opulence, converse with family and friends on a designer Italian sofa or contemporary sectional, at a modern dining table, in a kitchen. Retreat to a bedroom with personality, with boldness and tranquility amalgamated into one magical setting.

Decorating a home is an emotional and intellectual experience; a transformation of a place where you live into a place where you are comfortable living. It is a natural extension of who you are and where you like to be. Today's e-commerce allows the modern marketplace to bring forth the latest in trends, designs and technological advancements, which when combined with a personal taste and a good eye for design result in infinite possibilities in interior décor. Astonishing collections of modern furniture from leading European, Scandinavian and American designers, embrace the changing styles in art and fashion while upholding the essence of refinement, scale and harmony.

True manifestations of creativity and craftsmanship, today's contemporary furniture conceptions are a melting pot of styles featuring straight, linear, geometrically distinct designs or curvaceous motifs that speak of continuity. From cutting edge, sleek, minimalism to opulent luxury that integrates superior artistry with modern vogue. Stamping today's décor with boldness are elements of versatility, function and exotic allure. Today's blissful array of home furniture has the ability to flow through rooms without disruptions, attract attention without overpowering and build a façade that reflects a spectacular vision of art and originality.

Rich, natural woods, top-grain genuine leathers, stainless steel, lacquers, luxurious fabrics in exotic prints, glass and fiberglass are a few of the building blocks of this evolving industry. New innovations in manufacturing techniques open doors for new design ideas every day. From the conventional use to the unconventional applications, today's furniture industry is flooded with exuberant fabrications of the human mind. Unlikely combinations of woods with fabric, leather and glass are becoming the norm. And the comfort levels are endless. One thing is sure; the boundless possibilities in design did not make comfort a far fetched notion. The dichotomy between precious appearance and inviting comfort is not unintentional in today's furniture. Everything in furniture design is thought-through with the intent in mind; from conveniently integrated coffee tables, individually controlled backrests, to walk on platform beds and harmonica-like table extensions.

Distinguished by its aesthetic bravado, the modern home is not only the epiphany of style and refined taste but it is also a sophisticated concoction of proportion and scale; not to mention lavish comfort that very fast became a vital factor for many. Today's modern home is full of textures, colors and shapes, opposite in look and feel that are brilliantly amalgamated in perfect unison to result in a modern sense of inviting tranquility. It is place that transcends all senses and emotions, a place that's called home.
