

Translation website launched to help Italian and American companies

Italian/English
Translation & Consulting

Released on: March 19, 2008, 9:20 am

Press Release Author: Federica Zanti

Industry: Consumer Services

Press Release Summary: Italian American Translation, Foreign Web Design and Marketing, Business Consulting service launched to assist companies doing business in Italy and the Unites States

Press Release Body: Italian-translate.com launched a new service aimed at companies who require expert assistance in communicating in proper dialect between Italian and English languages to maximize their business opportunities between these two countries.

Italian-translate.com offers expert translation of documents as well as assistance in project consulting and designing a foreign website and positioning in the foreign search engines, all requiring the need to communicate correctly in each country's proper dialect to ensure successful business projects.

Many companies find they have need of experts who understand the language and nuances of Italy and the United States to effectively communicate what they desire their business communications to project to each country in the proper dialect.

Italian-translate.com, with its Italian Associate, native of Northern Italy, and educated there, with unique experience working in both countries translating and involved on project startups, along with American partners and a team of professionals welcome new customers presenting First Time Customers a Discount to prove the quality of the company services.

Web Site: <http://www.italian-translate.com>

Contact Details: Via Vallisneri n.20
41100 Modena (MO), Italy
info@italian-translate.com
Ph.011-39-331-6483157
Fax011-39-059-2929234