Press Release Summary: Extagen Investigated As Fake Extagen Capsules Being Marketed Online - Don't Be Scammed

Press Release Body: John Cartright is proud to broadcast the launch of his new Extagen capsule website at <http://www.extagen-capsule-reviews.com> which answers the most frequently asked questions men may have about Extagen penis enhancement products and issues a strong warning about fake Extagen capsules being marketed online.

"Men are looking for more natural ways to increase their penis size," said John. "However, there are many penis enhancement scams on the market today. We've all had the emails promoting one penis pill after another. Unfortunately this has resulted in men being ripped off by cheap pills that don't work and/or men believing that all penis capsules are all frauds. This includes fake Extagen capsules."

Unfortunately as a result of the increasing popularity of Extagen a number of fake Extagen products have come on the market.

"It is important that men are careful who they buy their Extagen from." John continued. "Only a select group of websites online have gone through the selection process and are authorised to promote genuine Extagen. <http://www.Extagen-Capsule-Reviews.com> not only answers the most common questions about Extagen including are there side effects, the ingredients, how it works and the results to expect but it is also an authorised promoter of genuine Extagen."

Why the increasing interest in Extagen and other penis enlargement pills?

John explains, "Studies have revealed that the average penis size is around 6 inches and men are continuing to feel more inadequate as a result."

John studied a huge range of penis pills on the market today. He looked at the claims made, the results men have experienced, if any, and the price of these capsules. His comprehensive study included the Extagen capsule.

He concluded that Extagen does really work to increase both width and length. Extagen capsules have been specifically created with a potent blend of top quality 100 percent natural herbs, carefully manufactured in a leading FDA approved manufactured facility with tight medical controls.

There are many reasons why erectile dysfunction and penis size is a major concern in men and why more and more men are looking to herbal enhancement products like Extagen. In fact, there are hundreds of searches every day just for Extagen alone.

The fact is that men don't want to be average anymore; 85 percent of men ejaculate within just 3 minutes of penetration; by the time men reach 28 years of age 95 percent of men can't reach erections 1/4 as often as they did when they were 20; and one in five break-ups are related to sexual dysfunction of some kind.

Extagen contains a selection of herbs and natural ingredients that increase the amount of blood flowing to and through the penis. This increase in blood flow results in a larger penis size. These same herbs have been already used for 100s of years for the same purpose.

Men experience significant results with Extagen.

"After about another two to three weeks she noticed. The only problem is the size gains (in length and girth) might be a little more than she can handle. I think she will get used to it though. I was not a believer, but now I am. This product works."
