

Landscape - Garden Bridges for Beautiful Garden Designs

Released on: May 7, 2008, 9:52 am

Press Release Author: Rod Bird Craftsman/owner of Redwoodbridges.com

Industry: Internet & Online

Press Release Summary:
Custom Garden Bridges are one such feature that lends not only creativity to your garden, but also shows your sense of appreciation towards architectural skills that go into building one. Contrary to the popular belief, garden bridges are ideal for any garden size and can be custom-made to suit virtually any kind of requirements specified by the owner of the home.

Press Release Body: Garden Bridges for Beautiful Garden Landscape Designs

Garden design is big business with more people having their outside spaces professionally designed and landscaped. Along with trees, plants and landscaped lawns many gardens and backyards now boast their own pond or water garden. Once people have a pond then the next thing they feel is missing is a garden bridge – but it can't be just any bridge. Custom handcrafted bridges by professional craftsmen are the latest thing for beautiful water gardens, landscaped yards and Koi Ponds. The most popular of these appear to be Redwood or Cedar Garden Bridges. Picture a beautiful Handcrafted Garden Bridge over your water garden area or Koi pond, It makes a terrific background sight indeed!

Here is a very informative video about garden bridges and other woodcrafts by a professional craftsman click on the video to watch.

Custom Garden Bridges are one such feature that lends not only creativity to your garden, but also shows your sense of appreciation towards architectural skills that go into building one. Contrary to the popular belief, garden bridges are ideal for any garden size and can be custom-made to suit virtually any kind of requirements specified by the owner of the home.

It's not essential that you need to have water feature for a garden bridge. Even in the absence of any water body in the garden, water garden bridges spell an excellent mirage effect on the onlookers and visitors. Any land area with certain amount of depression - natural or manmade - can be made to look like a dry riverbed where water once flowed. This can have illusory impact on the admirers and the family members.

If you are considering having a custom built garden bridge then you also need to look at the rest of your garden to see what style would best fit with your landscape. If, for example, you have a Japanese style garden then a small, arched garden bridge might be just the thing to add that finishing touch. You don't have to have your bridge over your pond. If you look through the gardening magazines or search the internet then you'll see that the right sort of custom built garden bridges can go in different areas of your garden.

The weight holding capacity of the bridges, especially pond bridges, should also be verified with the garden bridge maker. Ideally, your garden bridge should be easily able to support the weight of a small tractor, or between 350-400 lbs

Web Site: <http://www.Redwoodbridges.com>

Contact Details: Rodney Bird
295 Hwy 270
Mena, AR 71953 479-243-0375

Copyright 2001-2008 All rights reserved