Press Release Summary: The most important lesson for anyone pursuing addiction recovery is to understand that drug addiction is a clinical disease, with clinical causes and a need for clinical treatments. At Cliffside Malibu, a state-of-the-art residential drug rehab center, and extended care facility, important, international patients, suffering from drug addiction can find some of the finest and most extensive treatments in the world.

Press Release Body: The National Institute on Drug Abuse recently affirmed that chronic use of Ecstasy (MDMA) may lead to changes in brain function. Rohypnol, commonly known as a date-rape drug, can incapacitate users and cause amnesia when it is mixed with alcohol. GHB (gamma hydroxybutyrate), an illegally produced drug, that usually shows up in the form of a liquid that has no odor, or color, can lead to seizures and comas, while high doses of Ketamine, or 'Special K' can cause delirium, amnesia, impaired motor function, and potentially fatal respiratory problems. The Drug Enforcement Administration reported that overt effects of Special K can last an hour, but the drug can still affect the body for up to 24 hours. Despite the dangerous side effects, these harmful drugs are popular with club goers, and those attending "rave parties".

Mixed with alcohol, these particular drugs as well as methamphetamine, acid (LSD), and many others, can be quite dangerous, even deadly, not only for teens and young adults, but for people of all ages. Because of this, a lot of parents, siblings and friends are afraid that without drug rehab, substance abuse will permanently harm their loved ones.

The most important lesson for anyone pursuing addiction recovery is to understand that drug addiction is a clinical disease, with clinical causes and a need for clinical treatments. At Cliffside Malibu, a state-of-the-art residential drug rehab center, and extended care facility, important, international patients, suffering from drug addiction can find some of the finest and most extensive treatments in the world. Overlooking the beautiful Pacific Ocean, the Cliffside Malibu addiction treatment center is located just north of Zuma Beach, CA. The facility spans almost two acres and offers lush gardens, a swimming pool, a well equipped gym, gourmet meals, and total privacy.

Drug abuse ruins lives, wrecks families and prevents individuals from maintaining a rewarding social life. It affects educational growth, endangers a steady employment, or the fulfillment of professional responsibilities. The team of experts at Cliffside will put their quality drug rehab skills to good use, fully aware that a drug rehab program entails more than in-depth therapy sessions. How can anyone get better if they feel like a prisoner rather than a welcome patient, or a retreat guest?

Ask yourself the following: what distinguishes one drug rehab center from the next? Revolutionary, effective drug treatments? A completely undisturbed, undistracted and relaxed setting? A secluded, high-end facility, offering all the comforts from home and goes beyond the call of duty to help and assist? An unsurpassed success rate, with worldwide satisfied customers? All of the above and much more are awaiting each patient admitted at Cliffside Malibu. Just contact them, and you will soon find out that the efficient staff is not only very informative about drug rehab therapy, or any of the other exclusive services, but they are professional, kind and ever so patient. Their state of the art treatment methods, offered by renowned physicians are paired with the talents of massage therapists, acupuncturists, herbologists, personal trainers, spiritual advisers, and holistic medicine practitioners. The center is also licensed for dual diagnosis residential treatment, which means they can treat not only drug addiction, but co-occurring disorders, and compulsions, such as alcoholism, eating disorders, anxiety, depression, bipolar disorder, or social phobia.

The Cliffside's drug treatment programs are tried and tested systems, which focus not only on the physiological, behavioral, and social effects, but on all aspects of substance abuse; each drug rehab program is created to meet all the unique needs of the patient. By providing maximum comfort and relaxation with complete amenities to help patients recover faster, the treatments are ever so successful. They are designed to help the patients reestablish their once-severed ties to society and loved ones, and regain a sober life style, which will last forever.
