

GigglePrint extends its offerings with the release of folded holiday greeting cards

Released on: September 9, 2008, 5:08 am

Press Release Author: Stephanie Demetriou/GigglePrint

Industry: Marketing

Press Release Summary: Joppa, MD September 5, 2008—GigglePrint releases folded holiday greeting cards as an extension of its current collection. With an assortment of classic and contemporary designs, this new format will give customers the option when ordering their greeting cards for this holiday season.

Press Release Body: As a new company, GigglePrint is striving to become a one-stop shop for everyone's printing needs. The company is already offering personalized invitations, announcements, business cards, and other printed products for business and personal uses. One of GigglePrint's main objectives is to allow consumers the ability to personalize products according to their needs and individual tastes. The addition of the new folded format for greeting cards gives users one more choice when customizing their cards for special occasions.

On September 5, 2008, GigglePrint introduced its new folded greeting cards option. New designs will be added throughout the fall to enhance the selection available to consumers. Also, the new folded option will allow users to customize both the front and/or inside of the greeting cards. GigglePrint is providing both small and oversized greeting cards that can be ordered in flat or folded formats. The greeting cards are printed in increments starting at ten and shipped with free white envelopes. Prices start at just under $8 depending on the quantity and type of finish (linen is slightly more expensive). Additionally, customers can upload their own photos and logos to select designs for a small fee. Specific prices and product measurements can all be viewed at www.giggleprint.com.

GigglePrint continues to modify its product selection based on the printing needs of all consumers. Offering custom printed products at affordable prices is what sets GigglePrint apart from its competitors. The addition of folded greeting cards will give consumers another option in the designing of their cards for special occasions. A trip to GigglePrint's site will show you how fun customizing your own stationary can be!

About

Since its creation in 2007, GigglePrint has focused on providing custom printing services to small businesses and individuals alike. With a wide assortment of products, GigglePrint tries to appeal to the needs of all consumers. By continually adding new designs and products, GigglePrint is hoping to draw the attention of any person in need of individualized printing. Visit the site today and see what printed materials you may need!

GigglePrint:

Web Site: <http://www.giggleprint.com>

Contact Details: 1802 Fashion Court
Joppa, MD 21085