Press Release Summary: Kenn Renner Top Austin Realtor begins a series of real estate finance and foreclosure seminars in Austin Texas. These real estate seminars are open to Amplify Credit Union Members and to the general public.

Press Release Body: Austin, Texas -- October 20, 2008 -- On Saturday, October 25th national speaker and Austin real estate expert, Kenn Renner, will be presenting a free real estate finance and foreclosure seminar at the Brockton location of Amplify Credit Union (formerly IBM Credit Union). The seminar is part of Amplify University's on-going educational series. The two part seminar will focus on the current status of the mortgage market and investing in foreclosures.

Kenn will discuss how the "credit crisis" has affected lending policies, interest rates and the availability of funds. He will separate fact from fiction and dispel many of the falsities that the national media has purported. The truth is that banks "are" lending and those that want to buy in today's buyers market can get the financing they need – especially first time home buyers. Austin's strong economy will be discussed and how it has been relatively sheltered from the housing crisis that has hammered other parts of the Nation. Part II of the seminar will focus on foreclosures, short sales, REO's and HUD Repos. Strategies for capitalizing on some of the best real estate bargains in recent history will be covered in detail. Case studies and actual foreclosed properties that are available right now will be discussed. The seminar is free and Kenn will be giving away copies of Gary Keller's (Keller William's CEO) best selling books from his "millionaire" series. For first time home buyers Kenn will be providing free copies of "Your First Home – A Proven Guide to Home Ownership" ($20 Value). Previous seminars and presentations can be found at Kenn's video site <http://www.austinhomvideos.com> and at Kenn Renner's Youtube video channel.
