

The Holiday Issue of A Distinctive Style Magazine is Ready for Viewing! Don't miss out on the most anticipated issue of the year!

Released on: November 7, 2008, 9:46 am

Press Release Author: denise marie/publisher

Industry: Media

Press Release Summary: We have lots of surprises awaiting you in the Holiday Issue of A Distinctive Style Magazine. Fran Drescher educates us, Ed Begley Jr enlightens us, Antwone Fisher inspires us and we remember Paul Newman. We have numerous interviews with talented artists from around the world, eco tips for the holidays as well as audio and video files for your Holiday enjoyment!

Press Release Body: Enjoy the advantages of Reading Green while shrinking your carbon footprint. Each page of the magazine evolves into a rich digital adventure with audio & video. You'll see vibrant colors that jump off the page with breathtaking art from around the world. A variety of eco merchandise, living green tips, recycled products, inspiring interviews, unbelievable photography, award-winning graphic design, topnotch journalism with bi-monthly feature columns of the highest quality. We're doing our part to save the planet, one tree at a time. Make A Distinctive Style Magazine be your "Green Read" Choice!

stockings with.

For additional information on, advertising, affiliate programs or for a media kit please visit: info@adistinctivestyle.com

Web Site: <http://adistinctivestyle.com>

Contact Details: A Distinctive Style Magazine
PO Box 75104
Cedar Hill, TX 75104
518-282-4532
publisher@adistinctivestyle.com

Our Special Holiday Issue, showcases artist Joseph Gatto who at the age of 73 is still taking risks, combining ancient antiquities with modern metals to give us unique treasures that will be the topic of conversation at any Holiday party. Be inspired to turn everyday items into works of art by award winning Australian Environmental Artist, John Dahlsen.

Once again, when you visit www.adistinctivestyle.com you're in for a visual and interactive adventure in this highly anticipated Special Holiday Issue! Find out about the latest Green "Must-Haves," plus everything you need to fill your recycled holiday