

Make your tax refund work for you -- How military families can use a tax refund wisely

Released on: February 5, 2009, 11:12 am

Press Release Author: Scott Cahill

Industry: Financial

Press Release Summary: Many receiving a tax refund see it as "free money". But when used wisely it can be a way to catch up on bills and set up future financial success.

Press Release Body: Receiving a tax refund can be nice in tough economic times, providing service members and families with extra money they may not have anticipated. Often, those receiving a tax refund see it as "free money" they can use to splurge on items they might not otherwise afford. But when used wisely it can be a way to catch up on bills and set up future financial success.

Pioneer Services' newest article, Making your tax refund work for you, provides detailed suggestions on what to do with a tax refund. The article focuses on debt reduction and long-term solutions, and is suggested reading not just for military families, but for anyone getting money back from the Internal Revenue Service this year.

"Very few people enjoy paying taxes, but many enjoy getting some of it back," said Laura Stack, chief financial officer for Pioneer Services and author of the article. "Early filers will soon start receiving their tax refunds, and it's important for their financial health to use it wisely."

To read the complete article, visit PioneerServices.com and click "Education" at the top of the page.

Pioneer Services, the military banking division of MidCountry Bank, provides financial services, personal loans, and award-winning financial education to members of the Armed Forces. For more than 20 years, Pioneer Services has been a leader in military lending, and supports military families and communities through a variety of partnerships, programs, and sponsorships.

For more information, visit PioneerServices.com. For loan information, visit PioneerMilitaryLoans.com.

Web

Site:<http://www.pioneerservices.com/education/article.cfm?artID=76>

Contact Details: Scott Cahill

Public Relations

Pioneer Services - Division of MidCountry Bank

4700 Belleview, Suite 300

Kansas City, MO 64112