Getting a loved one drug treatment help can be stressful. However, finding a professional and successful drug treatment center is easier with the help of Cliffside Malibu. This sunny California facility offers drug rehab, alcohol detox and other addiction treatment options. With a dual diagnosis option, addicts with multiple addictions can be treated for all of them simultaneously.

Drug treatment centers provide a means of sober living for addicts. Ultimately, a drug rehab program such as the one provided at Cliffside Malibu generates a customized addiction treatment plan for each patient. Throughout the program, the staff monitors the addict and adjusts the plan according to daily needs in order to help the recovery process to occur faster.

A luxurious outlet to recovery, Cliffside Malibu provides countless amenities to its patient. such as anything from comfortable bedding and a turn down services to activities such as acupuncture, yoga, massage and hiking. All of these activities have been decided upon because of their relaxing and calming effects.

Families are also encouraged to participate through various counseling and therapy sessions. Cliffside Malibu generally uses a combination of group, individual and family therapy to generate the best available addiction treatment program nationwide. Unrivaled by no other addiction treatment facility, Cliffside Malibu is a leading addiction recovery facility in the United States.

The professional staff of health care professionals, counselors and therapists all is dedicated to the recovery process as well. By providing increased expertise and a caring and understanding attitude, patients are provided a relaxing and "at home-like" atmosphere to heal within. If any concerns come up, the staff works with the patient to change the situation so they feel more comfortable, thus giving them a better (and quicker) chance at sobriety.
