The Warner Leisure Hotels owned Corton Coastal Village has been announced as receiving the coveted 4 Star Holiday Village award by The English Tourist Board.

While the receipt of this latest accolade has been thoroughly welcomed, it came as no surprise to Warner Leisure Hotels that it would be congratulating Corton Coastal Village, on winning the coveted 4 Star Enjoy England Quality Rose Award. The Warner Leisure Hotels village is set atop the Suffolk cliff-top, which provides panoramic views of the North Sea and direct access to the seafront via a Cliffside staircase.

The Enjoy England Quality Rose assessment scheme gives a clear indication of accommodation standard, cleanliness, ambience, hospitality, service and food. Corton Coastal Village now matches her sister site, Gunton Hall Coastal Village, also in Suffolk. This means they can jointly celebrate the recognition of their excellent high standards throughout both properties.

To add to this recognition of Corton's success, the coastal village resort was also awarded the David Urquhart Travel 'Premier Collection' and the 'Good Hospitality' 2009 awards achieving the highest ratings for food, friendliness, excellent décor and facilities; the result of continual monitoring through customer satisfaction questionnaires.

Petrina Simmons, General Manager of both Corton and Gunton Hall Coastal Villages said "We are still celebrating our great news. This is such a fantastic achievement for the exceptional teams working at both locations. It's a huge accolade and a tremendous recognition of what we offer our guests and visitors - Unique places to relax, with a range of optional daytime activities and evening live entertainment combining to offer exceptional holiday opportunities."
