There are many musical entertainers throughout the world, who satisfy audiences with their various acts. However, there are only a few, who totally commit themselves and give unforgettable performances on every occasion, and with an overwhelming passion, that mesmerises his fans. One such entertainer is MIKA or Michael Holbrook Penniman Jr, the world-renowned singer and pianist who has thrilled audiences at festivals all around the word. The Lushington Entertainment Group has arranged to hold MIKA's first major live show in Singapore on the 14th of June 2010 at the Max Pavilion.

Although the BRIT award winning singer-songwriter is currently based in London, MIKA was born in Lebanon to a Lebanese mother and American father, and later, he grew up in Paris. With his multi-cultural background, MIKA has a solid appreciation of music from different countries, and with this musical talent, he created two successful albums, Life in Cartoon Motion and The Boy Who Knew Too Much. He has become well established in the music industry, with many commentators comparing him to Elton John, Robbie Williams or David Bowie.

When MIKA performs at international venues, he consistently leaves a strong impression, and during each performance, he changes the format of each show by incorporating a different fun theme every time. The head of marketing for Direct Rooms, Lek Boonlert, suggests, that "because of MIKA's popularity, anyone intending to see the show, and stay in Singapore, should select their hotel in Singapore sooner rather than later".
