

Eclipse Ski Has Made Dramatic Developments On Its Website, Offering More Deals, More Location And Greater Functionality

Released on: May 12, 2010, 4:51 am

Author: Eclipse Ski

Industry: Travel

Ahead of the official launch, Eclipse Ski has made a number of additions to its website. There are now more locations and significant functionality features which together serve to put site on track to becoming one of the premier ski travel and ski holidays booking sites on the internet. Most significantly, the latest package deals are now displayed on each location's individual page and can now be booked by contacting the Eclipse team direct before the online booking system goes live with the official launch.

The most exciting new functionality features provide users with the opportunity to view piste and area maps for each location, of which a greater number are now available. French ski buffs in particular are well served with the recent inclusion of popular resorts such as Courchevel, Serre Chevalier, La Tania, La Rosiere and Val Thorens which all display available package deals towards the bottom of their individual pages.

Eclipse Ski is a web based travel agency set up to take the hassle out of booking a group ski holiday. With access to all the major tour operators in the UK, they offer package deals including flights, transfers and accommodation to all the top ski resorts in Europe, the USA and Canada. By scouring all the available deals for the pick of the bunch, the Eclipse team do all the work that customers would normally do themselves, making it easier to find the right deal. And by taking pride in being experts in their field, the Eclipse Ski team are always on hand to answer any question or queries customers may have and assist with any problems in booking their holiday. Eclipse Ski is part of Eclipse Leisure, which has been in the events and travel industry for over ten years now, and so offers over a decade's experience in organising group holidays abroad. Eclipse has recently attained ABTA and ATOL registered status and so holiday-goers and their money are now protected when travelling with Eclipse Ski.

In keeping with the rest of the Eclipse Leisure group, each group booking with Eclipse Ski receives a free, unique website that the whole group can access to keep track of all their vital travel information such as itineraries, flight details, accommodation details and directions. It also features a message board for everyone to keep in touch and an image gallery to share photos and memories from and of the skiing holiday that will remain online long after the holiday is over.

With all the functionality and location updates, along with the forthcoming online booking system that will allow individuals to make their share of the group payment and other features to come; Eclipse Ski look set to making booking a group ski holiday a breeze.

Contact Details: 42 Bond Street,
Brighton,
East Sussex,
BN1 1RD
01273 223 767

~~~~~

Press release distributed via EPR Network (<http://express-press-release.net/submit-press-release.php>)