

Scott Hall's Health Is Improving At The Hospital

Released on: July 15, 2010, 05:43 am

Author: Chris Deblasio, LIGHTENING ENTERTAINMENT

Industry: Entertainment

New York, NY - Pro Wrestler Scott Hall was recently admitted into the hospital for double pneumonia over a week ago: As his official website <http://www.myspace.com/outsiderscotthall> stated that his health is improving, has been up walking the halls and looking forward to coming home.

Scott Hall had appeared recently on Gods Of Rock Radio interview, along with Sean Waltman.

He had talked about his depart from TNA, dealing with his personal issues that he had been struggling with all his life: How he kept every single person that loved him away from himself and deep issues that he carried out since his youth. His Alcohol problems and the most recent arrest! He also had reported that he was already talking to counselors in daily basis, was trying to take things one day at a time!

Scott Hall, as a wrestler has been an inspiration to many with his style and his edge, continues to inspire the likes of WWE's Sheamus who as a strong heel is reminiscent of an AWA-style, Big Scott Hall and uses a similar finishing move to Razor's Edge!

When it comes Scott Hall, wrestling fans never know what is in store for him, but he always comes back with a surprise, with his personal life in control , he may be back and better than ever and delivering the fans the full entertainment they are accustomed to. Once his health improves he will continue doing just that!

Contact Details: Chris Deblasio
Lightening Entertainment
Senior Advisor of the Pro-Athletes Division
ChriseblasioNFL@aol.com
www.lighteningentertainment.com/

~~~~~

Press release distributed via EPR Network (<http://express-press-release.net/submit-press-release.php>)