Following an influx of fans after launching their Facebook page, it has become apparent that the Rainbow Riches Slot team need to offer slots players a little extra, with their fans wishes in mind, Rainbow Riches Slot is proud to announce the birth of their new video channel.

There are several options in the Online gaming sphere for learning the reels, players can take advantage of the free play option to test the reels, before deciding to part with real money, alternatively slots players can watch online videos and glean information from the way the reels perform. The team at Rainbow Riches Slot decided to create their own video channel through Youtube to give fans a proper insight into the two most popular Rainbow Riches slot machine games, Rainbow Riches Pots of Gold and Rainbow Riches Win Big Shindig.

Site owner CM Jones quotes "We cover off just about every aspect of Rainbow Riches on our site including, the history of the great game and which operators are the safest to play at, however we felt that a vital component was missing from a player perspective. We wanted the fans to be able to read the Rainbow Riches games reviews and see for themselves how the machine works, actually having a visual aid really helps with the decision making process."

Rainbow Riches Slot has added the games videos to its review pages and they have created a separate page purely for the videos. This will certainly enhance the player experience; the slots fans can read thorough reviews on all aspects of the Rainbow Riches game and review which of the online gaming operators offer the most complete package for both new and experienced slots jockeys.

CM Jones continues "The great thing about our site is the fans and the way they interact with us, Facebook is a great tool to share all of our findings and by adding our own video channel things are only going to get far more exciting from here on in. We are also very proud to be associated with both Rainbow Riches and Youtube" CM eluded to the fact that the video channel on the Rainbow Riches Slot site will be throwing up a few quirky moves in the coming months, slots fans it's definitely worth tuning into their YouTube channel to keep up to date.

Rainbow Riches is one of the most popular online slot games around today, its player base is growing at a phenomenal pace and slots fans are expecting more from gaming review sites such as <http://www.rainbowrichesslot.com>. With the introduction of video streaming it is imperative that technology moves at a very quick pace to show fans just how great these Online slots are, there is nothing worse than trying to view a clip of your favourite Rainbow Riches game only for it to crash half way through. The team at Rainbow Riches Slot is very well connected with the top online gaming operators featured on their site, if a player has any issues the team will pass on any comment to the likes of Virgin and Sky Vegas. "If we can help make the user experience easier", is their motto.
