HolidayCity.com – Kuala Lumpur would once again be the meeting ground for top tennis players from all corners of the world. They would be competing on the courts for the champion's title at the Malaysia Open 2010 which is held from 25th September to 3rd October 2010. The second edition of the tournament would see a line-up of ATP World Tour stars that include top-ten and top-twenty players, and a few crowd favourites. Fans would be thrilled to see players such as Robin Soderling, defending champion Nikolay Davydenko, Tomas Berdych and many more in action. Kuala Lumpur hotels would certainly be busy providing their hospitality service to hundreds of tennis fans.

According to Tournament Director, Nick Freyer, Senior Vice President IMG and Head of Tennis, Asia, "To have many stars wanting to return to Kuala Lumpur makes the tournament team ever determined to set high standards and to think of new and interesting enhancements which will continue to make KL a favored stop with the players." Aside from offering an opportunity to bring together the players and fans from the region under one roof, the event has garnered a reputation as one of the best stops in the ATP World Tour.

Lee Lai Huat, CEO of HolidayCity.com, said, "Most of the time, tennis fans in Malaysia and the Southeast Asia region could only watch their favourite players on TV. At the Malaysia Open, they'd get the chance to actually watch it live and even get up-close-and-personal with their stars through autograph sessions and other special events." He went on further to remark, "With hundreds of eager fans expected to attend the event, do book your Kuala Lumpur accommodation early to avoid any disappointment.”
