Paris will welcome a selection of some of the best riders in the world for Supercross SX in November.

There will be all sorts of daring stunts being carried out at Supercross SX in Paris, as riders compete to take home the title of King of Bercy.

The action will be taking place at the Palais Omnisports Paris Bercy - hence the name of the crown - from November 19th to 21st 2010.

Plenty of Paris hotels in the area will no doubt be full of bike enthusiasts during this time, as petrol heads flood into the venue to see their heroes perform death-defying tricks and race at full pace around the track.

The organisers have revealed that there will be plenty going on to keep the excitement at sky-high levels, with gorgeous cheerleaders and light shows confirmed.

They noted there will be a mixture of racing and freestyle tricks on each night, so there is no chance of anyone getting tired of watching the same thing.

Supercross SX is not the only sporting occasion that is held at the venue, with the BNP Paribas Masters taking place there earlier in the month.

Tickets can be bought online at Bercy's official webpage or at the box office, with the show kicking off at 20:00 local time on November 19th and 20th and at 15:00 on November 21st.

Admission costs between €64 (£55) and €82.50, depending on where people want to sit.

For more information on this event visit the Bercy website.
