Launched this month, Establishing Solutions Inc. is dedicated to keeping their clients safe while they partake in extra-curricular activities that would otherwise leave them in the "dog house" with their loved ones.

Establishing Solutions Inc. is a business that specializes in being a client's "personal wingman" and would like to let its customers and potential customers alike know what types of services they currently offer.

The most flexible service the company offers is the "Custom Alibis for all Situations" package. Perhaps you need to disappear for a while and you need an excuse. Simply contact Establishing Solutions Inc. and explain your situation to them. No matter how detailed or finely executed of an alibi you need, Establishing Solutions Inc. will be there to cover for you. Because every situation is different, the price of the service will depend on how much detail you require your "professional wingman" to create.

As you are aware, it is tough to find a decent job because of the troubles our economy is facing. With the "Pseudo Work History" service however, you no longer need to worry about if your resume and references are good enough. Simply tell Establishing Solutions Inc. how many phone numbers or address references you need. You are then charged per reference, per month. You are also charged per written resume as well as per written cover letter, ensuring you look like the best possible candidate for that dream job you have been working so hard to get.

Need to get out of town for a week? The state? Perhaps you need to leave the country for an even longer period of time. With the "Pseudo Alibi Package," you can ensure your tracks are covered and your loved ones will be none the wiser. The package includes a call to any phone number of your choice informing the recipient there will be a conference, when and where it will be, and how long the conference will last. You will also have a fake invitation mailed to you, which includes a schedule and topic list from either the Establishing Solutions stockpile or topics of your choice. A number can be provided that will forward all your calls to you or a voicemail with an answering service matching the supposed location you are really suppose to be at. An "e-ticket" is also e-mailed to your email to be printed and a certificate of completion from the "conference" will be mailed to a desired address. Customers can also add or subtract any features they wish, giving them the best "paper trail" possible.

Do you hate your job or just need a day off? You wish you could use up some of your sick days and do whatever you wish? Now you can with the "Pseudo Call in Sick" package. Establishing Solution Inc. will call your place of employment and will act as a spouse, or anybody you wish and tell them you are too sick or injured to come into work that day. Once you are ready to go back to work however, you may be obligated to give your place of employment proof that you were sick. The "Pseudo Doctor's Office" package will create an authentic-looking doctor's note on a variety of illnesses and injuries of your choice.

These are just some of the services Establishing Solutions Inc. offers its clients. Not every service is set in stone, as they will cater to your needs depending on your situation. Establishing Solutions Inc. invites you to visit their website at www.establishingsolutions.com and see for yourself what types of services they offer and how affordable they really are.
